RESPECT/COLLABORATION:

- There are real scientists here, doing real work, please respect this and stay in the areas you are supposed to be in, unless instructed otherwise.

- Respect the instructors-- they are teaching because they want to be and are taking time away from other projects to do so. Do not talk when they are talking.

- Respect other students-- when they have questions or comments, listen, you might have the same ones. Just as you should respect your instructor, respect your colleagues by not talking when someone else has the floor. If you have a question or comment please RAISE YOUR HAND and wait for the instructor to call on you by name. If you are having a problem with another student that cannot be resolved, speak with your instructor.

- Working with others-- You might not always be paired up with the person you want to work with, but please make the best of it regardless. It's a good skill to be able to get along with others, even if they are not your favorite person.

- Collaboration is an important part of science, be sure to share your resources and when working with a partner, make sure to share the work.

- If you have been here previously, you might already have worked with some of the models and programs-- keep in mind that others haven't. Take the initiative to help others if you already understand!

- Respect everyone- Derogatory or Offensive comments will not be tolerated at any time!

INTERNET:

- During class, only visit web sites you are instructed to visit. If you are found at any other site while someone is teaching, you will be reprimanded. If this is a continuing problem, you will be sent home.

- Internet is for use before and after class, during lunch and breaks take the opportunity to stretch your legs and relax!

- Please stay out of chat rooms and inappropriate web sites. This includes web sites that restrict the age of the viewer, web sites that include illegal or immoral activity, and/or web sites that, by their nature, create a threatening atmosphere. If you come across a web site that falls into any of these categories by accident, hit the back button immediately and notify a senior Shodor staff member.

-Please DO NOT DOWNLOAD anything unless you are instructed to do so.

-Do not modify the configuration of any of the computers. This includes, but is not limited to, changing backgrounds, adding aliases, or installing software.

-Remember, you signed an Internet appropriate use form, please abide by it.

BREAKS:

-Breaks and lunch are to be taken in the annex or on the picnic tables between the annex and Shodor.

-Do not leave the grounds without your parents or legal guardian. If your parents or guardian come to pick you up during the day, make sure your instructor is notified in writing beforehand.

- The staff kitchen and annex kitchen are off-limits. If you need something from your lunch, please ask an instructor to get it for you.

MISCELLANEOUS:

-Please do not bring food or drink into the instruction area.

-If you need to take medication during the day, please notify an instructor or staff member immediately.

-Always clean up after yourself during breaks and lunch and clean up your work area when the day is over. If we find that areas are unclean we will ask everyone to come help clean up.

-It is always better for you to tell us than for us to find out. If you get hurt, if you accidentally break something, if you have any problem no matter how big or how small, just tell us. We're pretty good at fixing things, but we need to know what needs fixing first.

-Each day you will have an opportunity and an obligation to make this the best learning experience possible, both for this workshop, and for future workshops. We need your fair and honest assessment each day of how things went, what you liked, and what could have been done better.
